

WWTF Summer School “Designing places of emancipation”

a cooperation between the Interdisciplinary Centre for Urban Culture and Public Space (<http://skuor.tuwien.ac.at>) and the Centre of Local Planning (IFOER) at the Department of Spatial Planning, Faculty of Architecture and Planning of Vienna University of Technology

KEYNOTE LECTURES

31 AUGUST 2014

“Mobiles Stadtlabor”, Karlsplatz, in front of the main entrance to the Vienna University of Technology

9.00 – 11.00 Between emancipatory practices and everyday life

---

Jeff Hou

University of Washington, Seattle, USA

11.00 – 13.00 Cultural practices creating alternative values

---

Anton Lederer

rotor – Center for contemporary art, Graz, Austria

14.30 – 16.30 The material, the mental and the lived space

---

Anja Steglich

Technische Universität Berlin, Berlin, Germany

16.30 – 18.30 Participatory discourse and process

---

Burcu Yigit Turan

Ozyegin University Istanbul, Turkey

19.00 – 21.00 Between everyday life and scientific insights

---

Rob Shields

University of Alberta, Edmonton, Canada

PUBLIC EVENT

STAGED BY THE PARTICIPANTS OF THE SUMMER SCHOOL IN FLORIDSDORF

4 SEPTEMBER 2014 AT 17.00

the exact location will be subsequently announced on the SKuOR Homepage

The summer school has received funding and material support from the Wiener Wissenschafts- und Technologiefonds (Vienna Science and Technology Fund - WWTF) as part of the funding programme Public Spaces in Transition 2013. It has received additional budgetary support from the City of Vienna Visiting Professorship Programme 2013 at the Interdisciplinary Centre for Urban Culture and Public Space, the Department for Spatial Planning, the Vice Rectorate for Research and the Vice Rectorate for Academic Affairs, all at Vienna University of Technology. It is a pioneering project of the “Urban Future Lab “ based at the Faculty of Architecture and Planning of the same university. It benefits from the active participation of members of the Thematic Group for Urban Cultures and Public Spaces of the Association of European Schools of Planning.